Edwards, Thomas b. 1884 Aber-porth. [Cenotaph WI Mary Ellen 3 Church St. Killed
24.07.1915]

Edwards, Thomas Private, 9448, Royal Welsh Fusiliers. Thomas was born at Parcllyn, Aberporth in 1885, the son of John and Frances Edwards. He was an army reservist, and rejoined the colours at Cardiff at the outbreak of war. Thomas landed in France on 1 September 1914 with the 2nd Battalion, Royal Welsh Fusiliers. He fought with the battalion at the First Battle of Ypres, where the German drive to the Channel coast was stopped, but he was wounded and returned home for treatment.

He married Mary Ellen Rees at Merthyr Tydfil on 22 March 1915, prior to returning to France. On 4 April 1915 he was transferred to the 1st Battalion, Royal Welsh Fusiliers, which had suffered heavy casualties at Neuve Chapelle, whilst attached to 22 Brigade, 7th Division. During May they fought at the Battle of Aubers Ridge, and at Festubert. Thomas was killed at Festubert on 24 July 1915, aged 30. He has no known grave, and is commemorated on the Le Touret Memorial, Richebourg L'Avoue, France.

Esmonde, Thomas 22.08.1893 Evening Express

SUICIDE AT CARDIGAN. On Monday Thomas Esmonde, a native of Haverfordwest and a labourer for some time past at the Cardigan Brickworks, was found dead in his lodgings in Ebens-lane, Cardigan. He had come home from work, taken his dinner as usual, and went upstairs. Hearing a noise, the little daughter of the landlady went upstairs, and found Esmonde in a dying state, he having cut his throat with a razor.

Evans, David Private, 14673, South Wales Borderers.

David was born in Cardigan, and worked as a miner prior to the war, living with his wife Hannah at 39, Under Marian Street, Clydach Vale, Rhondda. He enlisted at Tonypany into the South Wales Borderers, and was posted to France on 10 December 1914, joining the 1st Battalion, South Wales Borderers, which was in Flanders attached to 3 Brigade, 1st Division. After three months in France he was admitted to No. 4 General Hospital at Versailles. He returned to duty some time afterwards, and would have fought in the Battle of Loos in September 1915. He was probably wounded during the Battle of the Somme in 1916, and returned home, dying of his wounds on 25 September 1916, aged 32. He is buried in Rhondda (Trealaw) Cemetery. David is not commemorated locally.

Evans, David George Private, 22840, King's Shropshire Light Infantry.

David was the son of Mrs. Ann Evans, of 3, Gloster Row, Cardigan. He enlisted at Pantyblaidd into the army, and was posted to France at sometime in 1916, where he joined the 6th Battalion, King's Shropshire Light Infantry. The battalion was attached to 60 Brigade, 20th (Light) Division, and David saw his first major action with the Division during the Battle of the Somme. and took part in the advance to the Hindenburg Line in March, 1917. Later that year they fought at Third Ypres, at the Battles of Langemarck, the Menin Road, and Polygon Wood, before moving south in November, to take part in the Battle of Cambrai. They remained in the area between Cambrai and St. Quentin over the winter of 1917/18 and were attacked there by the German Spring Offensive of 21 March, 1918. They then fought in the retreat at the Battle of the Somme Crossings and the Battle of Rosieres. The Division was withdrawn after the heavy fighting of the Somme battles, moving on 20 April 1918 to an area south west of Amiens, where it rebuilt before taking part in the advance to victory from October 1918. David was killed in action soon after, being struck by a shell on 5 October 1918. He was 20 years old, and is buried at Lievin Communal Cemetery Extension, France.
