Ladd, John Cyril B.Sc., Corporal, 1190954, Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve.

John was the son of John and Decima Pickstock Ladd, of Cardigan, and the husband of Margaret Ladd of Leicester. He served with the Royal Air Force in North Africa, attached to the Desert Air Force, which supported the 8th Army during its war against Rommel in North Africa. John was killed in Libya on 7 March 1943. He was 32 years old, and is buried at Tripoli War Cemetery, Libya.

Ladd, John Emrys Private, 235040, Royal Welsh Fusiliers.

John was born in 1893, the son of Charles and Hannah Ladd, of Trefaes, Moylegrove. He married Martha Rees on 2 September 1913 and the couple set up home at Danybryn, St. Dogmaels, where they raised their three children. John enlisted at Brecon into the South Wales Borderers on 4 September 1916, with the service number 3847, but later transferred into the 10th Battalion, Royal Welsh Fusiliers on 10 April 1917, which was in France attached to 76 Brigade, 25th Division. John joined the battalion at Arras. He saw his first major action there, during the capture of Roeux. John was wounded here, and sadly died of his wounds aged just 23, on 15 June 1917. John is buried in Duisans British Cemetery, Etrun, France.

Walter was born in 1893, the son of John and Hannah Mary Ladd, of 7, Church Street, Cardigan. He enlisted at Cardigan into the 1/4th Battalion, Welsh Regiment. Walter didn't get overseas however, as he remained in Pembrokeshire with the 4th Welsh Reserves. He was demobilised in order to return to his work as a Blacksmith at Cardigan, but kept on the Territorial Reserve List. Walter drowned following a boating accident in the Teify on 21 August 1916, aged 23. His body was eventually recovered from the river, and buried at Cardigan Cemetery. For some reason, Walter is not named on the Cardigan Cenotaph, but on the St. Mary's Church Memorial.

 Ladd, Capt. W H, his ship SS Adenwen sunk by Germ submarine [CTA 19.3.1915]

Captain William Henry Ladd, survived two attacks on SS Adenwen (by U-29 and by UC-65) and one on SS Haulwen (by U-43).

William Ladd was born in Cardigan in early 1883 and gained his tickets as 2nd mate in 1905, 1st mate in 1906 and master in 1909. During the First World War, he was master of steam ships belonging to the Cardiff owners W & C. T. Jones. His first encounter was in Adenwen in the English Channel when the attempted sinking by U-29 failed and she was repaired and put back in service. As master of Adenwen, he was later torpedoed by UC-65 in the Irish Sea. He then served as master of Haulwen, in turn torpedoed, by U-43, 200 miles west of Ireland.

SS Adenwen [Welsh for white wing], built 1913 by Bartram & Sons, Sunderland South Dock

Steel screw steamer: 3798 grt; 2386 nrt; 350.0 x 50.0 x 23.7 ft

Engines T3cyl (25, 42 & 68 x 48in), 320nhp, 1 screw, by J. Dickinson & Sons Ltd.

Voyage Rouen to Barry in ballast

11 March 1915, U 29 (Otto Weddigen) stopped her and put explosive devices aboard.

Crew (24-34 listed on crew lists) left in their own 2 boats, no lives lost.

She was damaged 20 miles NW of the Casquets but did not sink and was towed into Cherbourg by French destroyer Claymore.

Repaired and put back into service.

Lambert, William John [Cenotaph*: husb. Margaret, Lamb Inn, Finch Sq. Accidentally killed whilst picking up a German shell. 24 or 25.05.1917] [d. CTA 22.06.1917] gunner

Lambert, William John Gunner, 701802, Royal Field Artillery.

William was the son of Edward and Alice Lambert, of Teston, Kent. He resided at Finch Square, Cardigan prior to the war, with his wife Margaret, who he had married in 1906. He enlisted at Woolwich into the Royal Artillery, and landed in France on 29 September 1915, attached to the Royal Field Artillery. When the 66th Division moved to France in March 1917, William was posted to the 66th Division Ammunition Column, Royal Field Artillery, which took up positions on the Flanders Coast. Within weeks, the Division was moved to the Gorre sector. On 25 May 1917, William was at work when a German shell fell nearby. He went to pick it up, but it exploded, and killed him. William was 37 years old, and is buried at Gorre British and Indian Cemetery, France.

Lewis, Cecil Chief Officer, Merchant Navy.

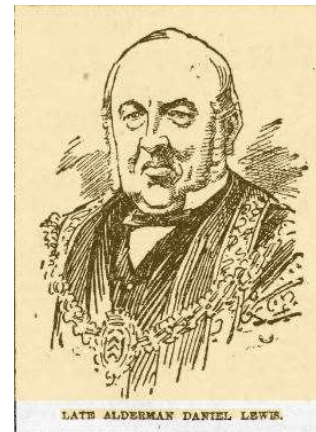

Cecil was the son of Thomas and Anne Lewis of Newport, and the husband of Harriet Lewis, of Endon, Staffordshire. He served in the Merchant Navy aboard the S.S. Stangarth (London). Built by Pickersgill, the ship was on a voyage from Sunderland to India when she was torpedoed on 16 March 1942. Cecil drowned that day as a result. He was 35 years old, and is commemorated on the Tower Hill Memorial, London.

Lewis, Thomas Glendenning Harries Pilot Officer, 131994, Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve.

Thomas was the son of Lewis and Mary Elizabeth Lewis, of the Commercial Hotel, Cardigan. He had married prior to the war, and was the husband of Mary Elizabeth Lewis, of the Black Lion, Cardigan. Thomas served as an Air Bomber with 49 Squadron, Royal Air Force, which was a heavy bomber squadron, equipped with the Avro Lancaster. On the night of 23 May 1943, Thomas took off in Lancaster ED813, as part of an inexperienced crew, on their first mission, which was to bomb Dortmund. On the return mission the following morning, 24 May 1943, Thomas' Lancaster was shot down near Essen, killing Thomas and three other crewmen. The three survivors were taken prisoner. Thomas was 31 years old, and is buried at Reichswald Forest War Cemetery, Germany.

 John was the Husband of Margaret Elizabeth Llewelyn, of St. Dogmaels. He served with the Merchant Navy aboard the MV British Security, a London registered tanker. On 20 May 191, British Security was on route from Curacao to Bowling in Convoy HX-126, carrying a cargo of benzene and kerosene when she was torpedoed and sunk by the German submarine U-556, south of Cape Farewell. John was 45 years old when he died that day, and is commemorated on the Tower Hill Memorial, London

Thomas Lloyd, who came to Cardigan to open the town's first foundry on the Mwldan, with English-speaking workers from Pembrokeshire. He opened an ironmonger's shop at No. 45 St. Mary Street. In 1836 Thomas Lloyd, ironmonger, owned shares in the Cardigan ships 'Rachel', 33 tons; and 'Abigail', 70 tons. In 1837 he helped to establish "Hope English Congregational Chapel" on Carrier's Lane. He and Martha Lloyd, his wife, were the first members of the new chapel. In 1837 he owned shares in the Cardigan ships 'Confidence', 106 tons, and 'Harmony', 78 tons. In 1838-42 he was a burgess of Cardigan. In 1839 he became a member of Cardigan Borough Council. In 1840 Thomas Lloyd, ironmonger, owned shares in the Cardigan ships 'Hope', 97 tons; 'Sincerity', 59 tons; 'Elizabeth', 27 tons; 'Rapid', 25 tons; and 'Mary Joanna', 118 tons. In 1840 Lettice Morris was a servant here. Thomas Lloyd's lease expired in 1858. Levi James then took up a lease of the property.

Lowther, Launcelot, 1905.08.21, 81, Priory St, HH 20 [d. CTA Managing Dir C Mercantile Co 18.08.1905; 25.08.1925]

On his retirement as Manager of the Cardigan Mercantile Company in 1901 the Tivy-side described Launcelot Lowther as:one, if not the best known and most respected businessmen in the town of Cardigan...

Davies' timber and general merchants' business was transferred to Davies' son and to Lowther in 1865, and was carried on under the name 'Davies and Lowther' until 1869. After a short interval Lowther returned to his late partner's employ as manager, and continued as such until 1876, when the two businesses of D. G. Davies and Thomas Davies merged as the Cardigan Mercantile Company. Thomas Davies was the Managing Director and Lowther the Secretary.

THE CARDIGAN MERCANTILE CO. AND MR. LAUNCELOT LOWTHER. There retired on Monday last from the post of manager of the Cardigan Mercantile Company, Mr Launcelot Lowther, who has filled that position so ably for many years. It is perhaps superfluous to say that Mr Lowther is one of the best-known and most highly respected businessmen in the town. In the month of June, 1848. Mr Lowther journeyed from London to Cardigan, and took up the management of the business of the late Mr David Davies, the Castle. In the year 1865 Mr Lowther, in conjunction with Mr D. G. Davies, carried on a business of timber and general merchants. The firm was eventually known as Davies & Lowther. Partnership was dissolved in the year 1869, and Mr D. G. Davies carried on the business alone. At the time when the two businesses of Mr D. G. Davies and the late Mr Thomas Davies merged into what is now known as the Cardigan Mercantile Company, Limited, Mr Lowther occupied the post of manager to the firm, but on the formation of the present company, he undertook the duties of secretary, Mr Thomas Davies being appointed to the position of managing director. Mr Lowther continued to hold the situation of secretary until the death of Mr Davies, when the duties of manager were also added. There is much to be said of Mr Lowther's career as a public man. From the first he took unlimited interest in the town and in its affairs. His association with the Cardigan Mechanics' Institute is one that will never be forgotten. In 1849 the concern was in a very poor financial condition, and the credit is due to Mr Lowther, who took over the hon. secretaryship in that year, for the material and admirable changes that he effected in the working of the institution. Needless to say, his services were greatly appreciated, and as a proof of this, on the 1st of January, 1852, a very handsome reward was made to him in the form of a presentation of a timepiece, which bears the following inscription In recognition of his unswerving zeal and efficient conduct as hon. secretary." This presentation was made by the members of the Institute. Other prominent town matters with which Mr Lowther has been closely and conspicuously connected are almost too numerous to detail separately. He took a very active part in the formation of the Cardigan Steam Navigation Co., which owned the s.s. Tivyside, the first steamer to run direct between Cardigan and Bristol. To this company Mr Lowther occupied the position of secretary. To the late Mr Thomas Davies and Mr Lowther the inhabitants of Cardigan should express their thanks for being supplied with an adequate supply of gas. It is owing to their combined exertions that the Cardigan Gas Consumers Company was formed in 1865, and Mr Lowther still holds the position of secretary. Mr Lowther was also the actual founder of the Loyal Glantivv Lodge of Oddfellows and was the first member initiated. Most important, perhaps, of all is Mr Lowther's connection with the Town Council, which dates back from November, 1865. In that year he was elected to a seat, his opponent on that occasion being the late Mr John James, who withdrew. He was elected in the place of Captain David Evans, deceased, his declaration being signed by Mr Richard D. Jenkins (Mayor) and Mr W. Wagner Mitchell. At this time he included amongst his colleagues Messrs Richard D. Jenkins, Thomas Davies (Bank House), John James Jones, David Mathias, W. J. Noott, W. Wagner Mitchell W. W. mlth, James Seaborn Evans, Dr Thomas, Messrs Thomas Parker, Lewis Lewis, Thomas Edwards, John Davies, David Jones, Asa J. Evans, and others, the town clerk then being Mr Morgan, solicitor. All these gentlemen, with the exception of Mr Lowther, have crossed the bar."

Strange to relate, the affairs of the Corporation were at this time in a most deplorable state, the accounts not having been made up or audited for over ten years. As may be imagined, Mr Lowther's strong business habits revolted against this state of affairs; and he took upon himself the difficult task of putting the Corporation exchequer on a firmer basis. What amount of success attended his efforts can be easily imagined when it is stated that the following resolution was passed at a meeting of the Mayor, Aldermen and Councillors, held on the 16th of August, 1867

"This meeting considers that Mr Lowther merits the grateful acknowledgment of the inhabitants and ratepayers of the borough of Cardigan for undertaking and performing the herculean task of bringing the Corporation accounts out of the chaotic state in which the same have been so long allowed to remain, in such a form as to be capable of being understood and investigated, and that he should be properly remunerated for his services."

A spontaneous meeting of the townspeople followed this, and a unanimous resolution of thanks was accorded him, and, in addition a sum of £20 was voted as a recognition of the kindheartedness which prompted him to take the task in hand, and thus release the borough of a great difficulty. Mr Lowther was also offered, and, as a matter of fact, earnestly pressed to accept, the office of Mayor, but this honour he refused, owing to his various business engagements. Our representative called upon Mr E. Stanley Jenkins, the newly-appointed manager of the Cardigan Mercantile Company, at his office on Monday morning. I have the advantage," said Mr Jenkins, in the course of the conversation, in not being what you might say entirely new to the work. I have held the post of cashier and book-keeper here for twelve years-thus I have some knowledge of the business. I am a native of Cardigan, and I think I can safely say, without fear of contradiction that this is the largest concern of its kind for a radius of about twenty miles. The business was started as a limited company in 1875. and is now in a very flourishing condition. Thus I may be said to commence my duties under very favourable circumstances. I may remark that we import two cargoes a year direct, from the Baltic Sea. The company has 12 directors and 93 shareholders, and three of of the former act as a consecutive committee. In conclusion I may say that by paying strict attention to business I hope to prove as successful as my pre- decessor, Mr Launcelot Lowther, who, you will no doubt be pleased to learn, will return the secretary's portfolio by the universal wish of the directors."
