

Oakes, Arthur Gunner, 1795, Royal Field Artillery.

Arthur was born in Cardigan in about 1870. He was employed by the Teifi Board of Conservators and employed as a river watcher after returning home after the Boer War. Arthur was married to Annie Oakes, of Peterwell Terrace, Lampeter, and enlisted at Aberystwyth into the 2nd Reserve Brigade, Royal Field Artillery. His health was poor and he remained on home service at Bedford attached to C Battery, 341st Brigade, Royal Field Artillery. Arthur died from lung problems at Bedford Military Hospital on 11 November 1916, aged 46 and is buried in Bedford Cemetery. He does not appear to be commemorated locally.

Owen, David Griffith Second Lieutenant, Oxfordshire and Buckinghamshire Light Infantry.

David was born on 6 May 1889, the son of John and Margaret Anne Owen, of Bryneirw, St Mary's, Cardigan. He had emigrated to Australia prior to the war, and on 30 September 1914 enlisted at Brisbane into the 15th Battalion, Australian Infantry. David served at Gallipoli with the battalion, and after the evacuation in January 1916 was discharged on 21 January 1916 to a commission into the 3rd Battalion, Oxfordshire & Buckinghamshire Light Infantry. David became ill, suffering from jaundice, probably contracted at Gallipoli, and died in hospital in England on 23 November 1916, aged 27. David is buried at Cardigan Cemetery.

Owen, John Driver, T/1863, Royal Army Service Corps.

John was born at Cardigan, but resided at Newcastle Emlyn prior to the war. He enlisted at Pentre into the Army Service Corps, and was attached to the Welsh Division Train, part of the 53rd (Welsh) Division. The Division moved to the Mediterranean, sailing from Devonport in July 1915 arriving at Mudros by 5 August 1915. From here they moved to Gallipoli, landing on 9 August. Here they immediately faced the chaotic leadership that was to lead to the ultimate failure of the campaign, and spent the next few days in isolated pockets, fighting against a Turkish counter-attack. The Division remained here throughout the coming months in terrible conditions, and John was taken ill. He was evacuated to the Base Hospital at Alexandria where he sadly died on 23 September 1915. He is buried there at Alexandria (Chatby) Military Cemetery, Egypt.

Born in Lion Terrace. Professor of History at Nottingham University. He was educated at Llandovery School and Keeble College Oxford, where he gained a first class honours degree in Modern History in 1911. Won the Stanhope Prize at Oxford. During the First World War, he served as captain in the 5th Battalion of the Oxford and Bucks Light infantry. He lectured at Bangor and Sheffield University before joining University College Nottingham in 1920 to become Professor of History. He was honorary president of University College's History Society, a member of the Council of the Pipe Roll Society and a member of the Lincoln Record Society. Retired from the University of Nottingham in 1951. He had an interest in local history, was joint editor of the Thoroton Society of Notts, and wrote articles on a number of the manuscript sources. His published monographs include 'The connection between England and Burgundy during the first half of the fifteenth century' (1909). 'England and the Low Countries 1405-1413' in English Historical Review (1913). With R.L. Archer and A.E. Chapman, 'The teaching of history in elementary schools' (1916).

His brother David died during WWI and his name appears on the town Cenotaph.

- Owens, David Edward Sergeant, 111963, Tank Corps.
David, known as Teddy, was the son of John and Mary Jane Owens, of 18, Quay Street, Cardigan. He was a tailor, and lived at 4, St Hildas Road, Griffithstown prior to the war. On 20 August 1913 he married Lydia Parfitt, of Pontypool. He had served with the 1st Volunteer Battalion, Welsh Regiment during the Boer War, and on 11 August 1916 rejoined the colours at Pontypool, and was posted to the Tank Corps. He saw service with the Tank Corps until being demobilised on 15 April 1919, and returned to Pontypool. His wife Lydia had died in 1918, and in 1920 Teddy married her younger sister Ada Jane Parfitt. David's health had suffered during the war, and he died at Pontypool on 9 May 1921, aged 42. He is not commemorated by the CWGC.

Owens, George Deck Hand, 3478SD, Royal Naval Reserve.

George was born on 31 March 1887, the son of Evan and Elizabeth Owens, of Grange House, Grangetown, Cardigan.

He served with the Royal Naval Reserve aboard the SS Mariston, a defensively armed Merchant steamer. On 15 July 1917, when 82 miles West of Fastnet, Ireland, on route from Almeria to the Clyde, she was torpedoed without warning and sunk by the German submarine U-45, with the loss of 28 lives. George was 30 years old, and is commemorated on the Plymouth Naval Memorial, Devon.

- Owens, William Private, 7821, Welsh Regiment [1872–1915].
William was born in Cardigan in 1872 and was raised by his aunt Anne Thomas at Pwll y Bwmpwr, Penparc. He enlisted at Cardiff into the Welsh Regiment and embarked for France on 23 November 1914, joining the 2nd Battalion, Welsh Regiment which was at Ypres attached to 3 Brigade, 1st Division. The battalion had been decimated during heavy fighting on the Marne and Aisne prior to moving to Ypres and had then been badly hit again at the Battle of Gheluvelt. William was among a large number of re-enforcements posted to the battalion following its trials at Gheluvelt and saw his first winter in the trenches near Givenchy soon after. William was killed in action here on 24 April 1915, aged 43, during a routine spell in the trenches. He has no known grave and is commemorated on the Le Touret Memorial, Richebourg L'Avoue, France. He does not appear to be commemorated locally.
