- Albert was born at Dublin in 1897, the son of Albert Drury Walker and Mary Walker. The family were living at Brontivy, Cardigan by 1906, where Albert's father worked as a Dentist. Albert enlisted at Cardigan into the 1/4th Battalion, Welsh Regiment, which was the local Territorial Battalion, attached to 159 Brigade, 53rd (Welsh) Division. The Division landed at Cape Helles, Gallipoli, on 9 August 1915, and was immediately thrown into action, spending the next few days in isolated pockets, fighting against a Turkish counter-attack during the Battle of Sari Bair, and then at the Attack on Scimitar Hill. Albert was killed in action here on 10 August 1915, aged 18. He is commemorated on the Helles Memorial, Gallipoli.

- Wigley, Lewis First Engineer, Mercantile Marine.
 Lewis was born at Cardigan in 1874. He married Emily Corbetta Rees in 1909, and resided with her at Catalone, Lion Terrace, Cardigan. Lewis was a long serving engineer in the Mercantile Marine, and during the Great War served aboard the SS Brika. Brika was a defensively-armed Merchant ship. On 13 March 1917, she was 13 miles from Coningbeg Light Vessel, Ireland, when she was torpedoed without warning and sunk by a German submarine. Lewis was one of two men who died that day. He was 42 years old, and was brought home for burial at Cardigan Cemetery.

Williams, Daniel Gwilym Chief Engineer, Merchant Navy.

Daniel was the Husband of Helena Mary Williams, of St. Dogmaels. He served with the Merchant Navy aboard the SS Leo Dawson, a Newcastle-on-Tyne registered cargo ship. On 29 January 1940, Leo Dawson was on route carrying iron ore from Narvik for Immingham, when she was torpedoed and sunk by the German submarine U-37, with the loss of all her crew. Daniel was 50 years old, and is commemorated on the Tower Hill Memorial, London.

Williams, David Matthew Private, 91420, Durham Light Infantry.
 David was born on 17 July 1899, the son of William and Martha Williams, of 2, Llynfelin Cottages, Cardigan. He enlisted into the Royal Welsh Fusiliers on 8 October 1917, and was posted to France, joining the 1/9th Battalion, Durham Light Infantry on 6 August 1918. The battalion was the Pioneer Battalion to 62nd (2nd West Riding) Division. David took part in the advance to victory over the coming weeks. On 12 September the Division captured Havrincourt. Two weeks later it captured Marcoing and Masnieres, important crossings of the Saint-Quentin Canal. Further advances were made on 29 September and up to 1 October 1918. On 20 October, the Division was in action once again, this time in the crossing of the River Selle, at Solesmes. By 4 November, the enemy by now being in full retreat, the Division attacked at Orsinval on the Sambre and five days later, the advanced units were entering Maubeuge. Within days of the armistice, David became ill, suffering from influenza. He was evacuated home, but died at Whalley Military Hospital on 10 March 1919. David was just 19 years old, and his body was brought home for burial at Y Ferwig (St. Pedrog) Churchyard.

Williams, David Morgan Rifleman, 371433, London Regiment.

David was the son of Owen and Catherine Williams, of 7, Queen's Terrace, Cardigan. He enlisted at London into the army, and was posted to France with the 8th Battalion (Post Office Rifles), London Regiment, which was attached to 140 Brigade, 47th (2nd London) Division. The Division had been in France since March 1915, and David joined the battalion on 28 October 1915, at Arras. They were north of Arras when the Germans attacked Vimy Ridge, and then moved south to the Somme, where they fought at the Battle of Flers-Courcelette, and then at the Battle of Le Transloy, where the Division captured Eaucourt l'Abbe, and took part in Attacks on the Butte de Warlencourt. Early in 1917 the Division moved north to Belgium, and took part in the Battle of Messines. David was killed in action here on 10 June 1917. He was 22 years old, and is buried at White House Cemetery, St. Jan-Les-Ypres, Belgium. His brother, Owen also fell.

Williams, Ellen Myfanwy Nurse, Red Cross.

Ellen was the daughter of John and Elizabeth Williams, of 38, Feidr Fair, Cardigan. She trained as a Nurse, and by 1911 was working at West Bromwich Hospital. She continued to nurse wounded soldiers there during the war, but took ill and died at West Bromwich on 19 January 1915, aged 26. She was brought home for burial in Cardigan Cemetery.
